SO MANY GREAT REASONS TO CRUISE

More Australians than ever before are enjoying the fabulous benefits of cruising. There are lots of reasons why. With a choice of more than 180 distinctive ships both small and large, around 2000 ports of call around the world, there is the perfect cruise for everyone.

On a cruise you can see the world, completely unwind, experience new cultures, dance the night away, feast on fabulous cuisine, learn new skills, make new friends and bond with your family. The possibilities are endless.

Value for money

Your cruise price includes your accommodation, dining, entertainment and more, making cruising an easy holiday to budget for.

It's hard to find a comparable land holiday to compete.

Unpack only once

Wake up to a different sight, and port, nearly every day. No other kind of holiday allows travellers to visit different countries with the convenience of only unpacking once. Once on board your ship, you really have arrived at your home away from home. No need to live out of a suitcase or be hopping on and off buses and planes.

Culture and excursions

One of the most exciting aspects of a cruising holiday is the variety of fascinating ports you can visit on any one journey.

You will have the opportunity to immerse yourself for a short time in a completely different culture to your own. Get set to learn, absorb and explore the world around you.

Some of the smaller port stops are relatively easy to explore independently; however, one of the greatest ways to experience the very best of your ports of call is to participate in your cruise ship's shore excursions.

Designed to cover a range of tastes, shore excursions arranged by your cruise ship can include anything from cultural walking tours, cooking schools and shopping tours to adventures, such as helicopter rides, mountain biking, canoeing, white-water rafting and wildlife treks.

It's a good idea to start planning your shore excursion choices early. Some cruise lines will even allow you to book in advance of your cruise, either online or with your travel consultant. You will usually receive a program of your ship's shore excursion options with your cruise documents once you have booked and paid for your holiday. If you do not pre-book, it is best to book your excursions as soon as you board the ship.

Cuisine

A holiday wouldn't be a holiday without enjoying great food, wine and service.

From five-course meals in the main dining room to poolside barbecues and pizzerias, your tastebuds are certainly in for a treat on a cruise. Try new foods with a different menu choice every night. Most ships have self-service buffets available for breakfast, lunch and sometimes dinner. These are a quick, convenient and relaxed way to dine.

For those who enjoy dressing up every now and then, formal nights are usually offered. Men will be required to wear a dark suit and tie, or perhaps even a dinner jacket, while ladies can dress up in a cocktail dress or evening gown. Some ships also have semi-formal nights. Alternate dining options will be available for those who would prefer a more casual dining experience.

In addition to the vast array of dining options included in your cruise fare, many ships offer 'specialty' restaurants, where for a nominal fee, you can dine on world-class international cuisines such as Italian, Japanese, French, Mexican or Chinese. Bookings can be made once on board or pre-booked online, depending on the cruise line.

A room service menu, which is more often than not accompanied by convenient 24 hour service and is often complimentary, is available on most ships.

Ship activities and facilities

There is no need to have any concerns about filling your days at sea, as the options are endless.

You'll usually find activities such as swimming, exercise classes, computer training, art auctions, photography classes, dance lessons, shuffleboard, deck quoits, basketball and tennis, to name a few.

You could attend lectures on the culture, history, flora and fauna of the region you're cruising in, or perhaps even learn some tips on cooking the regional fare. If games of bingo, trivia quizzes, crafts and board games are more your speed, you're also catered for.

For night owls, every night on a cruise ship is an entertainment spectacular. Consider your ship as a floating capital city, with nightclubs, movies, live music, themed parties, magic, comedy, cabaret, Broadway and West End-style shows and casinos to keep everyone entertained.

On larger ocean-going cruises, facilities on board the ship may include anything from day spas, gyms and saunas to wave pools, cinemas, ice-skating rinks, mini-golf courses, ten-pin bowling alleys and rock-climbing walls.

Relaxation

With all the options for action, fun, exercise and education available on many cruise ships, you'll probably need to pencil in some time for rest and relaxation.

Many cruise ships now feature world-class day spas, and a visit to the day spa can be a wonderfully rejuvenating part of your cruise holiday. Most onboard spas offer a tour where they showcase their facilities and explain the variety of treatments available. This is a great way to assist you in deciding what you would like to try. We all love to be pampered, and there is a spa treatment or therapy to suit everyone.

Family time

Cruising is an ideal holiday choice for both children and parents, and most cruise lines offer a vast range of supervised children's activities. The children are well looked after with dedicated, age appropriate child and teen facilities offering hangouts and activities geared to the younger set, allowing adults time to relax and enjoy a real holiday.

Romance

Cruise ships provide the perfect setting for midnight walks under the stars, exotic ports, spa services and intimate dinner arrangements.

Simplicity and satisfaction

Whether you are cruising for three days or 30 days, and whilst you will visit a variety of ports, you only have to check in once and you are in same cabin for your entire holiday. With meals and entertainment included in your cruise fare, other incidentals such as drinks and onboard shopping, can be charged to your personal cabin account. It allows you the convenience of not having to exchange cash or use your credit card. Unlike some travel you may undertake, you won't come back from your holiday needing a holiday – it's a fact that cruises have higher levels of satisfaction than any other holiday.

CHOOSE YOUR SHIP

With the outstanding choice of cruises, ships and itineraries available for every budget, a cruise represents almost unlimited travel experiences.

With choices ranging from intimate yacht-like vessels with as few as 50 passengers, to massive mega ships stretching longer than three football fields and carrying up to 5400 people, choosing the right cruise could be seen as slightly overwhelming.

Regardless of physical dimensions, all cruise ships offer the same ingredients: accommodation, entertainment, activities, an abundance of food, good service and exciting ports of call.

It's just that some may offer that special 'something' that will suit you better than some other options.

The number of passengers on board your ship is an important consideration; do you want to meet and socialise with lots of people or do you want to enjoy quiet time with your partner?

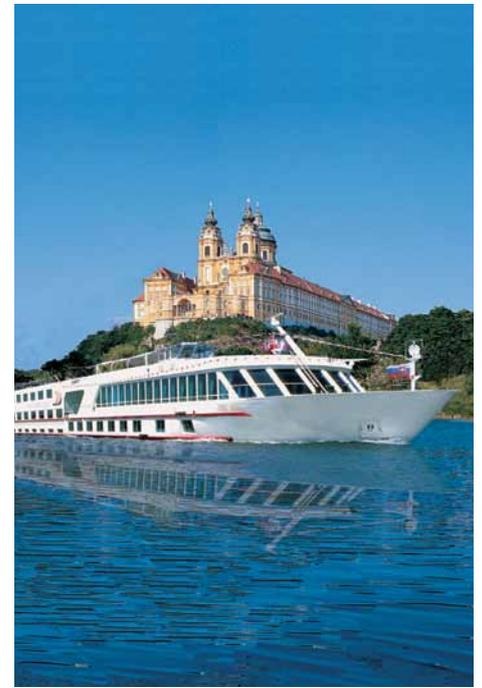

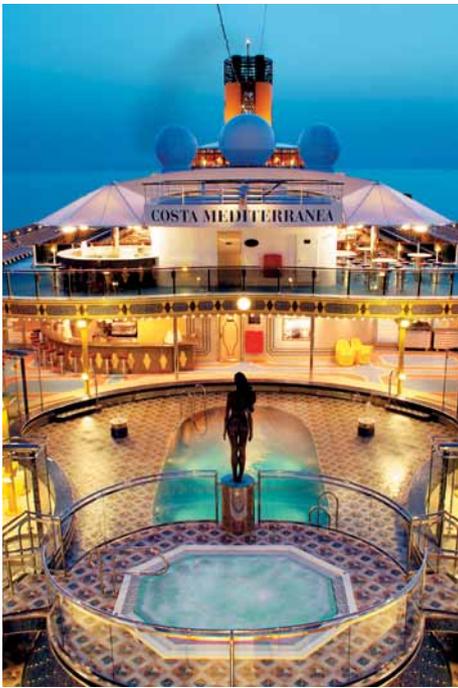

Selecting the cruise line that best matches your personality is crucial, as it may vary your experience.

Are you seeking personalised service and an intimate ambience or an exciting resort out at sea?

Do you want an adventure across the oceans or a meander along a river?

These are just a sample of the many questions you will need to ask yourself when deciding which cruise ship is right for you.

Ships come in three principal categories and are measured in Gross Registered Tonnes (GRT) and by the number of passengers that they carry.

Let us take you through some of the discerning attributes of each, to help you have the cruise holiday you have always dreamed about.

Large Resort Ships

1200 – 5400 passengers
90,000 – 220,000 GRT

Creating a resort environment, these are the ships to choose if you enjoy a very social atmosphere with loads of entertainment and an endless supply of food. They provide a well-packaged cruise holiday experience that can range from standard to luxury.

One of the best things about large ship cruising is the extensive range of entertainment facilities and programs available for people of all ages and interests.

During the day, busy yourself with a workout at the gym, indulge in a pampering spa treatment, take a cooking class, play a round of mini-golf ... or enjoy an extensive choice of other options. At night, be entertained in grand venues such as casinos and nightclubs. If you are travelling with children, large ships are well suited due to the extent of children's programs on board.

On the list of advantages is the amazing selection of restaurants and dining, from 24 hour room service menus to smorgasbord buffets and gala five-course formal dinners. Large ships are perfect for those who like their days to be busy, as there are always activities happening across the ship. Many offer adult-only areas should you want a bit of peace and quiet.

Mid-size Ships

500 – 1200 passengers
30,000 – 90,000 GRT

Somewhere in between larger resort ships and small ships, mid-size ships tend to offer a premium cruise experience. Mid-size ships are very well suited to smaller ports, due to their ease of manoeuvrability.

This allows many cruise lines to operate itineraries not possible for large resort ships or small and boutique ships such as some round-the-world cruises and longer journeys that take in many exotic locales.

Neither too big, nor too small, these ships' size and facilities generally strike a happy balance. You can easily find your way around and there is still a range of activities and excursions to participate in.

With regards to entertainment, there is ample. While mid-size ships don't offer as wide a range of facilities or productions as those on large ships, they do offer a greater range of facilities than small ships and more than enough to keep everyone entertained, particularly when considering the ratio of passenger numbers to facilities.

So if you are wanting the best of both worlds, a mid-size ship is the perfect choice.

Boutique & Small Ships

50 – 500 passengers
5,000 – 30,000 GRT

If you're seeking an intimate cruise experience with personalised service, then a small ship cruise holiday will probably suit you best.

With small ship cruising, you could find yourself on the deck of some of the world's most exclusive cruise ships. This can be on coastal vessels, river cruise ships, sailing ships and expedition ships that take you on nature-based cruises to frontiers such as Antarctica and along the Amazon.

This is the kind of cruise you should choose if you enjoy a quiet and relaxed cruising experience, with fewer passengers, facilities, entertainment and dining options than large ships. This is the right choice if you would like a more unique adventure or an educational journey that provides a rather intimate ambience.

Furthermore, if you would like to access some off-the-beaten-track ports that large ships aren't generally able to access, this is the definitely the cruise for you. Small ship cruising allows you to experience culturally rich and unique port destinations, in a more intimate environment and more exclusivity in your shore experiences.

CABIN SELECTION

One of the most important decisions you'll need to make when booking a cruise is your cabin type and location.

© Oceania Cruises, Monte Carlo

Sometimes there can be up to 20 different cabin categories, so how do you go about choosing the perfect cabin?

Inside Cabins

These are the lowest category of cabin and the least expensive, and are located in the internal section of the ship. Some of the newer ships may have windows into the atrium of the ship, but Inside Cabins tend to be best suited to passengers who intend on being out and about a lot and don't mind not having a view.

Talk with your travel consultant about the price difference between an Inside and Outside Cabin, as the difference may be quite small.

Outside Cabins

Generally, Outside Cabins are almost identical in size and amenities to the Inside Cabins, with the only difference being the sealed window or porthole to the ocean offering natural light into the cabin.

The Porthole Cabins are on the lower decks and are generally the least expensive in this category. Most modern ships have large picture windows rather than portholes, but these windows may not be opened, so if you want a sea breeze in your room, you'll need a Balcony Cabin.

Balcony Cabins

The Balcony (Verandah) Cabin is the next step up from Outside Cabins, generally offering the same amenities, but with the added advantage of sliding glass doors that give you access to the outside and ocean views from your cabin.

They are a place for you to sit, dine, enjoy the view or even have a massage. Enquire about the price of a Balcony Cabin, as it sometimes won't cost you much more than an Outside Cabin.

Suites, Penthouses & Villas

Above the Balcony Cabin category, there's a range of luxury cabins that offer more space and facilities than other cabin categories. Suites come in all shapes, sizes and locations. Some have private balconies, others come without; others may offer interconnecting cabins for families and may accommodate groups of up to 14 passengers. They are a wonderful treat, especially if you have a lot of days at sea. A new trend is the Spa Cabin, offering direct access to the ship's spa facilities.

CRUISE Q&A

Below are some of the more commonly asked questions and answers travellers have when choosing to cruise.

How do I get to the port to join my ship?

In most instances the cruise line will offer seat-in-vehicle transfers to join your ship from the airport and return if your flights arrive and depart on the same day as the cruise. These services should be pre-booked and paid for with your travel consultant. Some ports have traffic restrictions and taxis may not have access to the shipside.

Should I book a night's accommodation before or after my cruise?

If you are flying in or out to join your cruise, it is recommended to book a night prior and possibly a night after your cruise in the event of any unexpected delays with your flights or cruise. Trying to catch up to your cruise ship can be expensive and very stressful.

Are there medical facilities aboard the ship?

Most ships travel with a doctor and registered nurse on board. They will also have reasonable medical facilities to handle emergency situations. Smaller ships may have more limited facilities.

Can I get my laundry done?

Most ships offer full laundry and dry-cleaning services and this can be billed to your onboard account. Some ships provide self-service washers, dryers and irons, either complimentary or for a nominal fee.

What are the dress codes on board?

There are three distinct types of evenings on board: casual, smart casual and formal.

Suggested guidelines are as follows:

Casual means sport shirts and slacks for men, sundresses or pants for women.

Smart casual means jackets for men and dresses and/or dress pants for women.

Formal means suits and ties or tuxedos for men and cocktail dresses or evening gowns for women.

Do I need to tip on my cruise?

It is customary to tip staff members on the majority of ships. If tips are not included in your cruise price, you will receive an envelope in your cabin on the last day of the cruise, or as a convenience, some cruise lines will automatically charge to your cabin.

Some cruise lines have a no tipping policy. Ask your travel consultant for guidance.

How do I get ashore?

Usually the ship will dock in the port and you will leave by the gangway (as you do when you embark).

In some ports, however, you will anchor a little way out from the shore and be taken to shore by tender.

Checklist

Some of the most important questions you need to ask your travel consultant when booking your cruise are:

Which cruise ship will suit me the best?

What destinations are available?

What should I budget?

What is included in the price?

What is the cancellation policy?

Can I make any changes to my holiday?

What facilities and activities does the ship have?

What type of cabin do you recommend for my tastes and my budget?

What season is it best to travel to my destination?

Will I need a passport or visas for my cruise?

Do I need any vaccinations?

What can I do in port?

What kind of food, service and entertainment can I expect?

THE P&O CRUISES WORLD CRUISING EXPERIENCE

After almost 175 years, P&O Cruises World Cruising has perfected the art of travelling in refined, British style. We seek out the best the world has to offer, from the destinations we visit and the food we lovingly serve to the variety of entertainment we provide. The atmosphere on board a world cruise is unique. It's the excitement and anticipation of the delights to come. The thrill of knowing you will meet fascinating people, some of whom will become lifelong friends.

The destinations vary as you move from one famous port to another, taking trips ashore to see why these great attractions have earned their name.

Discover why a journey with us is as much a part of your holiday as the destinations themselves. Although you'll find the latest in modern entertainment facilities on every ship, including cinema screens, state-of-the-art gyms, saunas and more, you'll still see deck games played on board. A world cruise offers a wonderful chance for pampering in the luxurious spas we have on board.

Every day offers amazing opportunities to sample new dishes as you travel from port to port and one culinary culture to another. Some people love to do absolutely nothing on board but socialise, relax and dine. And that's fine. For many the entertainment on board is one of the most important factors.

Enjoy international cabaret artists, classical concerts and live music from our onboard bands that play everything from disco to jazz and classical.

Cuisine

You'll discover a choice of swimming pools and whirlpool spas, a fully equipped gym, sauna and steam rooms, plus you'll enjoy full use of the sports court for cricket, deck tennis and more. Take time to enjoy all the things you promised yourself. Whether that's exercising in the gym, learning the tango or indulging in a massage – you'll be spoilt for choice.

In the relaxing spas you'll find treatments to match the cultures you visit. So you could have a Balinese head massage when the ship moors in Bali, a Thai massage in Phuket, or an Indian head massage in Mumbai. On any day there is a wide range of treatments to sample, all designed to soothe and restore.

Each ship offers an enticing but differing range of facilities. Child-free Arcadia, offers a relaxed pace, stylish surroundings and more than a hint of extravagance. Classic features abound, such as her sweeping Crow's Nest lounge with indulgent touches like the most luxurious spa in the fleet and dining from esteemed British chef, Gary Rhodes. Aurora is cosmopolitan, refined and family-friendly, with an elegantly tiered stern, teak deck and interiors that tell of an affinity with foreign shores. Oriana is elegant, timeless and family-friendly. # ADVENTURE & SMALL SHIP CRUISING

Journey to some of the most remote regions cruising has to offer. Enjoy the experience of small group excursions and leave the crowds behind.

Kicker Rock, Galapagos Islands

What is Adventure & Small Ship Cruising?

Adventure and small ship cruise lines allow you to experience life under billowing sail, take part in scientific expeditions, meander through some of the top rivers of the world or participate in unique seminars or experiences.

More often than not, passengers who choose adventure or small ship cruising are driven by the destination and experience rather than the actual cruising craft. There is generally fewer passengers than on the larger ocean cruising lines, with numbers starting as low as 20 and climbing to only around 500.

It is important for those choosing adventure and small ship cruising to be flexible and adaptable. Often the terrain into which you will venture, experiences the extremes of weather conditions. This may interrupt or change your shore excursion options. Most companies will, however, have a back-up option should your preference not be available on any given day.

Benefits of Adventure & Small Ship Cruising

The smaller size of the ships is also an advantage, enabling them to cruise to more shallow or narrow waterways that larger vessels cannot access. This opens up exciting destinations whilst still focusing on a comfortable onboard lifestyle.

Adventure and small ship cruising experiences tend to offer many shore excursion options, travelling to destinations that are off the beaten track whilst allowing exploration of amazing ecological and cultural wonders.

Amenities on board adventure cruise ships often include state-of-the-art equipment, including satellite navigation, first-rate medical facilities, gourmet cuisine and comfortable cabins. Facilities are designed with an adventurous clientele in mind and, depending on the size of the ship, can include fitness centres, spas and fine dining.

Many adventure and small ships have their own inflatable Zodiacs which transport passengers into the depths of the environment that is being explored. Traverse amongst spectacular icebergs and watch out for the diverse wildlife of the Antarctic. Camp out on an ice-shelf or snorkel with sea lions in the Galapagos Islands – the options with adventure and small ship cruising are limitless.

Why Choose Adventure & Small Ship Cruising?

Want something off the beaten path?

An adventure or small ship cruise is a wondrous experience offering a relaxing environment as well as the opportunity to explore fascinating places. A world of adventure awaits as you begin your cruise and venture to locations of beauty and mystique.

Onshore excitement

From the freezing environs of Antarctica to the magical islands of Greece, adventure and small ship cruising allows you to discover and learn more about your destination. Passionate and expert guides assist in making your onshore experience as exciting and wondrous as possible.

Responsible Travel

Adventure and small ship cruising often appeal to those looking to experience other cultures and environments. This type of travel lends itself well to those who believe in the statement 'take nothing but photographs; leave nothing but footprints'. Responsible travel is manifested by hiring local guides, working with local businesses, and by leaving each area in a better state than how it was found, along with many other measures.

Onboard Education

Learn about your destination in detail before you arrive with informative lectures, interactive classes and in-depth briefings.

THE ONBOARD EXPERIENCE

Entertainment

Cruise itineraries, entertainment and activities cater for a broad range of ages. Evening entertainment is light and informal. Sydney Harbour is a great introduction to cruising for any age. Fiji is ideal for family groups and couples who enjoy a tropical lifestyle, whilst the Murray River is popular with mature travellers.

Captain Cook Cruises encourage a hands-on approach, but always leave you in charge of your own activity level. If there is a headland to climb or a reef to snorkel, you are invited. If you want to take it easy by the onboard pool, just ask for a towel and maybe grab an entertaining thriller from the library.

The key is informality and flexibility with the focus on making each experience as revealing and memorable as it can be.

Dining

All vessels feature single-sitting dining rooms with tables for 6 to 10 passengers. Menus (both buffet and a la carte) are international and feature fresh local delicacies, prepared on board by international chefs.

Menus are complemented by a comprehensive selection of fine wines from Australia and New Zealand premier wine regions.

Facilities

Our small ship fleet offers comfortable facilities and accommodation at great value prices. There are plenty of big ship extras including swimming pool, spas, saunas, massage and beauty treatments, entertainment and easy-access small boat boarding platforms.

Accommodation

All cruise ships offer a standard room type and a mid-range accommodation which is the most popular. Fiji & Murray cruise ships also offer a premium room type for those wanting extra cruising comforts.

Small Ship Advantage

Small ship cruising takes you far from the beaten track and close up to places no other kind of cruising can reach. Captain Cook Cruise ship's small size means it can negotiate narrow waterways, shallow bays and quiet rivers where bigger ships cannot go.

Unlike big ships and large-scale international ports, a small ship allows you to experience places where the nature, history and culture remain fresh, where the flood of tourists has not overrun them and will not overrun you. Places where you will meet and interact with the locals and discover how the waterway plays a vital role in their normal day-to-day lives.

Norway's magical coastline and its wildlife are the primary sources of entertainment for Hurtigruten passengers. Hopefully, in winter, the spectacular light-show that is the Northern Lights will act as an encore. Films and presentations may be shown to illustrate the history of Norwegian coastal life.

Cuisine

All of our delicious meals on board are prepared by experienced Norwegian chefs. We aim to offer you a range of cuisine from the richly traditional to the completely modern. To accompany each meal, you can choose from our menu of red and white wines, beer, aquavit and mineral water.

All ships have restaurants that serve breakfast, a lunch buffet and a 3-course dinner. In addition, the ships have a cafeteria that sells both hot and cold dishes as well as snacks and beverages.

If you have specific dietary needs, providing you advise your necessary requirements in advance, ships can customise your meals.

On Hurtigruten ships, there is no particular dress code so no need to bring your suit and tie or evening gown.

Facilities

THE PEREGRINE EXPERIENCE

The far icy reaches of our planet are no longer out of reach. You can visit the rugged wilderness areas of the polar regions with Peregrine where sightings of seals, polar bears, penguins, and whales are daily occurrences, and majestic icebergs often form the backdrop of your adventure.

Peregrine's state-of-the-art expedition ships and experienced captain and crew take you deep into the Arctic and Antarctic regions in comfort and safety. Our expedition ships enable us to unlock a miraculous, pristine world where animals have no fear of man; where the din of a hundred thousand penguins drowns conversation; and where whales show as much curiosity in the behaviour of humans as we do in theirs.

Peregrine also offers voyages around the natural wonderland of the Galapagos Islands, located off the coast of Ecuador. Playful Sea Lions dance in the water; brilliant Red-breasted Frigate birds sweep the air and giant Galapagos Tortoises amble amongst the vegetation. Small groups of no more than 16 passengers are led by an expert English-speaking naturalist encountering many species, including land and marine Iguanas, Blue Footed Boobies, Fur Seals and Sea Lions.

The future

Our new cruises for 2012 are now available featuring a wide range of cruises aboard Minerva from the UK, featuring some fascinating itineraries around the Baltic, the British Isles, Norway, France, the Mediterranean and the Levant, the Black Sea and on to Oman.

THE SWAN HELLENIC EXPERIENCE

Swan Hellenic has been refining the art of discovery travel for more than 50 years, blending a mix of 'must-see' sites with smaller, but no less intriguing, destinations that larger ships pass by. Our cruises include world-class cities such as St Petersburg, Venice, Istanbul, Bangkok and Singapore, but also smaller, off-the-beaten-track destinations, that combine to produce meaningful and thought-provoking itineraries.

Minerva carries around 320 like-minded passengers. Furnished in country-house style, she has all the refined comforts you would expect: tasteful colour schemes, button-backed sofas, wood panelling, art, flowers, comfortable and well-equipped cabins, as well as a library, card room, cinema, beauty centre and pool.

Our guest speakers are mainly academics, diplomats and writers, chosen for their knowledge and passion. Learn about the archaeology of a site with those currently involved in excavation work, hear about contemporary issues from former ambassadors and visit Chekhov's house in Yalta in the company of an expert on his life and work.

A Swan Hellenic cruise is outstanding value for money, with an inclusive shore excursion and guest speaker program, the services of a dedicated Swan Hellenic team, and all gratuities on board and ashore included.

Entertainment

Swan Hellenic focuses on classical concerts, operatic performances and after-dinner talks rather than grand stage shows or casinos. Enjoy a cocktail, compete in a quiz or enjoy a performance given by local entertainers. Dance to live music in the Darwin Lounge or under the stars, or simply enjoy a moonlit walk observing a passing coastline.

Cuisine

Mouth-watering meals featuring dishes that reflect the destinations to which we travel are accompanied by specially selected wines from Rothschild chateaux and domaines. The onboard atmosphere is further enhanced by open-seating dining, so the choice is yours, as is when you dine, where you dine and with whom you dine – each day of your cruise.

Facilities

On board Minerva, you will find a number of places to relax, including two restaurants, two bars, a lounge, cinema, library, card room, gymnasium, sauna, spa and swimming pool. There is also a gift shop and a boutique, a beauty salon, and a complimentary laundrette for your convenience.

Accommodation

All staterooms have private facilities, air-conditioning, TV and radio, direct-dial telephone, hair dryer, binoculars and a safe. Suites feature private balconies with floor-to-ceiling patio doors. Deluxe and Superior cabins include large picture windows, mirrored for privacy.

Shore Excursions

Uniquely, you'll be treated to included sightseeing in every port we visit – the chance to get to know a new destination and the best way we know to make sure you don't miss out on the key places to see. With numbers on board limited to around 350 guests, Minerva makes light work of getting you ashore everywhere she sails. With itineraries lasting from 9 to 71 days, each journey has its own raison d'être. Leaf through the pages of history or simply enjoy the great outdoors. Concentrate on one region, or expand your horizons on one of our back-to-back Grand Voyages. With plenty of time ashore to make your own discoveries and additional excursions to choose from, Swan Hellenic will make sure you make more of every destination.

Guest Speakers

One of the main attractions of a Swan Hellenic cruise is the calibre of our guest speakers, each chosen for their expertise and for their passion in communicating their specialist subject. Swan Hellenic guest speakers are respected historians, classicists, archaeologists, vulcanologists, geologists, military historians, botanists, art historians, theologians, ambassadors, writers and broadcasters – to name but a few. Three or four guest speakers accompany each cruise.

RIVER CRUISING

Intimate, exciting, beautiful ... explore the world's great waterways and arrive right in the heart of your destination on a river cruise.

What is River Cruising?

A river cruise is exactly what it sounds like – a cruise along inland waterways. River ships navigate the major rivers, lakes and canals of Europe and Russia and can be a spectacular way to see a country up close, especially since towns and cities often grew up along the edges of waterways. In fact, more often than not, you can arrive right in the heart of a destination – all without leaving the ship.

River ships are smaller than their ocean-going sisters, typically holding 100–250 passengers. They cover considerable distances, allowing you to see a great deal of the countries you are visiting.

Europe isn't the only location to take a river cruise. Cruising the Nile in Egypt, the fascinating Mekong Delta in Vietnam or the Yangtze in China is a great way to observe and enjoy local village life and their peoples.

Benefits of River Cruising

Like ocean cruising, river cruising offers the great benefits of only having to unpack once and being able to relax while travelling between destinations. It also lets you travel where larger ships cannot, allowing you to see a country up close.

River cruising allows you to get into the heart of a country and hence opens up a myriad of cultural opportunities. When docking the ships are often right in the centre of cities and towns, making them every sightseer's dream.

Visit the mighty Nile River and see incredible historic sites such as the Pyramids and Sphinx. Cruise through the extensive river systems of Europe and explore centuries-old architecture, or sample local fare and take in a cultural show in Asia. It's no wonder river cruising is such an ever-growing choice for passengers.

Why Choose a River Cruise?

Explore the great rivers and the countries they flow through from the comfort of your river cruise. Embark on a river cruise and enjoy the ultimate in relaxation and spectacular scenery. Immerse yourself in the wonderfully relaxed and casual atmosphere of your river cruise whilst taking in the stunning panorama without the hassle of buses or cars.

Dining

River Cruise chefs take great pride in using local produce and showing off local cuisine so your taste buds can enjoy a delicious holiday as well.

Easy Border Crossings

There is no worrying about visas and border patrols, no travel hassles and no stress on a river cruise. Just enjoy the journey while someone else takes care of the details.

Attentive Service

With smaller boats and fewer passengers, the attentive and courteous staff on a river cruise feel more like friends and help make your trip a truly memorable experience.

Views, Views, Views

On a river cruise you are always close to land so there's plenty of scenery to enjoy. Relax, sit back and watch the world go by.

Created by European and celebrity chefs, the Viking menu is also regularly adjusted to allow for the enjoyment of seasonal specialties such as asparagus and game.

Where an itinerary includes meals ashore, you will visit restaurants carefully selected by Viking's in-country staff. Enjoy Peking duck in Beijing or a traditional German lunch when in Rothenburg.

Those who appreciate a first-class travel experience will undoubtedly enjoy sailing aboard a luxury cruise line. Spacious surroundings, art collections, flawless personal service and attention to detail, extra stateroom amenities, quality bed linens and onboard enrichment programs are just a few examples that demonstrate their exceptional quality. You will enjoy creative cuisine that excels in presentation, taste, variety and ingredients. Fine dining is one of the many highlights of luxury cruise lines. You will be served connoisseur wines and premium spirits by sommeliers who understand and can discuss fine wines.

Benefits of Luxury Cruising

These cruise lines are also recognised for the distinguished destinations they sail to, satisfying experienced passenger's appetite for exploration. Offering unique itineraries with a mixture of ports and activities, the luxury lines understand what a sophisticated traveller desires. You have the choice of ship sizes ranging from small boutique-style to mid-sized (500–900 guests) to large ships carrying up to 1000 guests – all offering a comfortable high passenger-space ratio.

Luxury cruise lines have a high crew-to-passenger ratio enabling your crew to anticipate your needs and respond quickly to your requests – rarely will you hear the words 'no' or 'impossible' on a luxury cruise line. Whatever luxury cruise line you choose, to whichever remote and exotic part of the world, you will be guaranteed to have the experience of a lifetime.

Why choose a Luxury Cruise?

Luxury cruise lines feature similar shipboard amenities to contemporary lines (spas, health clubs, pools, multiple dining options and restaurants, intimate lounges, incredible entertainment, casinos and more), but they feature a more luxurious experience with sophisticated dining experiences, amenities and service.

Shore Excursions in Style

Whether you are exploring the Chilkoot Trail in Alaska or sipping on a fine chianti in Florence, your shore excursions on a luxury cruise will not disappoint. Just as your onboard experience is one of exceptional comfort and service, so too will be your on-land encounter.

Spacious Elegance

More often than not, your accommodation on a luxury cruise will offer more space and more features than on other cruise lines. Some feature in-room spas, private verandahs, butler service, flat screen TVs, cosy bath robes and much more.

Fine Dining at its Best

Dining on a luxury cruise is understood to be an integral part of your cruising holiday. Celebrated chefs design innovative menus, which are sure to please, while the attentive service of the staff will cater to your every whim.

THE SEABOURN EXPERIENCE

With Seabourn, the world is more intimate and more enchanting. Here, you'll explore ports rarely visited by larger ships and meet people who are happy to show you around their hidden corner of the globe. These are the places you have dreamed of.

From the moment you first step aboard a Seabourn ship, you'll be part of an exclusive circle, the privileged few, who have discovered the true joys of cruising.

Aboard one of these intimate ships, you will feel like a welcomed guest. The captain and officers seem like old friends. Everyone on the professionally trained staff – more than one per suite – not only knows you by name, but knows your personal preferences as well.

The days and nights are carefree and ultra luxurious. Personalised service is a way of life. Never lift a finger while you're a guest of Seabourn, unless it's to signal a waiter for another bottle of vintage Bordeaux from the fully stocked wine cellar.

With their unmatched sense of style, elegance and grace, Seabourn beckons you to travel beyond the bounds of the imagination.
