

Birth Chart based on Chinese Mysticism

Even in ancient times, the Chinese had ways to predict and plan the sex of their unborn child. It is very important for Chinese families to have a male child to carry on the lineage and their last name. So, the Chinese developed a chart to help women plan their pregnancy.

It claims to have a more than 95% accuracy rate!

For the convenience of our readers, I am using the real age at conception instead of Chinese age and the conceive age is on the first row of the table. And the Conceive month is based on the lunar calendar, where the month begins around 4th of each solar month.

(For the exact date, please refer to the Ten Thousand Years Book by Dr. Edgar Sung)
