DESCRIPTION OF THE PDF RESEARCH PROJECT
A. Describe the main research problem the PDF research will tackle and the rationale for choosing this problem. How is this significant for CGIAR's Strategic Results Framework, Gender IDO and one or more of its gender sub-IDOs? How is the PDF project related to an important research problem flagged in a participating CRP's Gender Strategy? [300 words max]
B. List the 1-3 principal research question(s) related to this problem that the PDF is expected to tackle.

C. Describe the expected research activities: types of data the PDF is expected to use or collect, principal research methods if already planned, field sites if relevant. [300 words max]

D. Describe how the above social science research activities will be linked operationally with technical research activities of the team the PDF will join. Explain how the proposed research approach, methods, teamwork and other activities proposed will contribute to the integration of gender analysis in this technical research area. How will the PDF be integrated into work of the technical research team? How is the PDF's integration into this team expected to make a significant input to the gender-responsiveness and relevance to gender equality of the technical research? [300 words max]

E. Expected results and outcomes: e.g. describe potential findings, publications, outreach, application of the results to other relevant activities-- and how these would contribute to CRP outcomes, in particular one or more of CGIAR'S gender sub-IDOs as laid out in the CGIAR Strategic Result Framework. [300 words max]

F. How will the findings of the PDF research project be used by CGIAR scientists in the technical research team in which the PDF will work? Will other social scientists make use of the findings, and if so, how? Will other CRP's benefit from this research: if yes, which ones and how? Will partners make use of the findings and if so, which partners and how? [300 words max]

G. What effect do you expect the PDF research project to have on future use of gender perspectives and analysis in the technical area(s) involved? What will the lead institution, CRP leadership, the PDF's technical team and mentors and the PDF do in the 2 year period to make sure this expectation is realized? [300 words max]

H. Mentoring. Describe how the two supervisors and any other experts will mentor and support the PDF to sustain the professional development and research quality of the Fellow [300 words max]
