About astrology

- Astrology is an ancient art/science that uses astronomical observations for predictions
- Astrology and astronomy have parted ways
- We are using the tropical system for this lecture
- Astrology does not predict an unchangeable future
- It is also connected to other systems such as Qabalah and Tarot...for another lesson

Some points about birth charts

- Like all astrology, a birth chart does not predict an unchangeable future
- The car analogy
- It is possible to have exactly the same chart as another person yet be very different.
- Knowledge of the chart can produce results
- To cast a chart you need to know the city, date and time to the minute
- The play analogy

The Building Blocks of Astrology

- Planets – The Actors
 - Each rules certain signs
- The Signs – The Roles
 - Elements
 - Quality or Cardinality
 - Planetary Rulerships
- The Houses – The Stage
 - Natural rulership of signs in houses
 - Houses grouped by quality and element like signs

Planets

- “Planets” include the Sun, Moon and Pluto, and can potentially include large asteroids
- We use 10 planets in this system
- They can be thought of as 10 different dimensions of human personality
- Planets are said to rule certain signs
- They also have relationships amongst each other which we cover later

Planetary Rulership

Every sign has relationships with certain planets, both flowing and stressful.

The planet(s) which has the best relationship with this sign is said to be in dignity or exaltation.

Planet with stressful relationships to the sign are in detriment or fall.

Signs

- Based on constellations named long ago
- These constellations are divisions of space circling the earth in the path of the ecliptic
- A sign is 30 degrees: $360/12 = 30$
- They correspond to 12 conditions which the planets pass through
- There are three main things to know about each sign: element, quality and planetary ruler

Houses

- Houses represent the 12 divisions of the zodiac applied to the hours of the day (relative to your position on earth which the planets move through on a daily basis)
- They are the 12 areas of activity in human life
- Each sign has a natural house
- Houses represent the places or scenes in which the actors (the planets) in their roles (the signs) perform their play

House Element and Quality

Quality	Fire	Air	Water	Earth
Cardinal	1 st	7 th	4 th	10 th
Succedent	5 th	11 th	8 th	2 nd
Cadent	9 th	3 rd	12 th	6 th

Angular Houses have cardinal qualities

Succedant Houses have fixed qualities

Cadent Houses have mutable qualities

House Breakdown

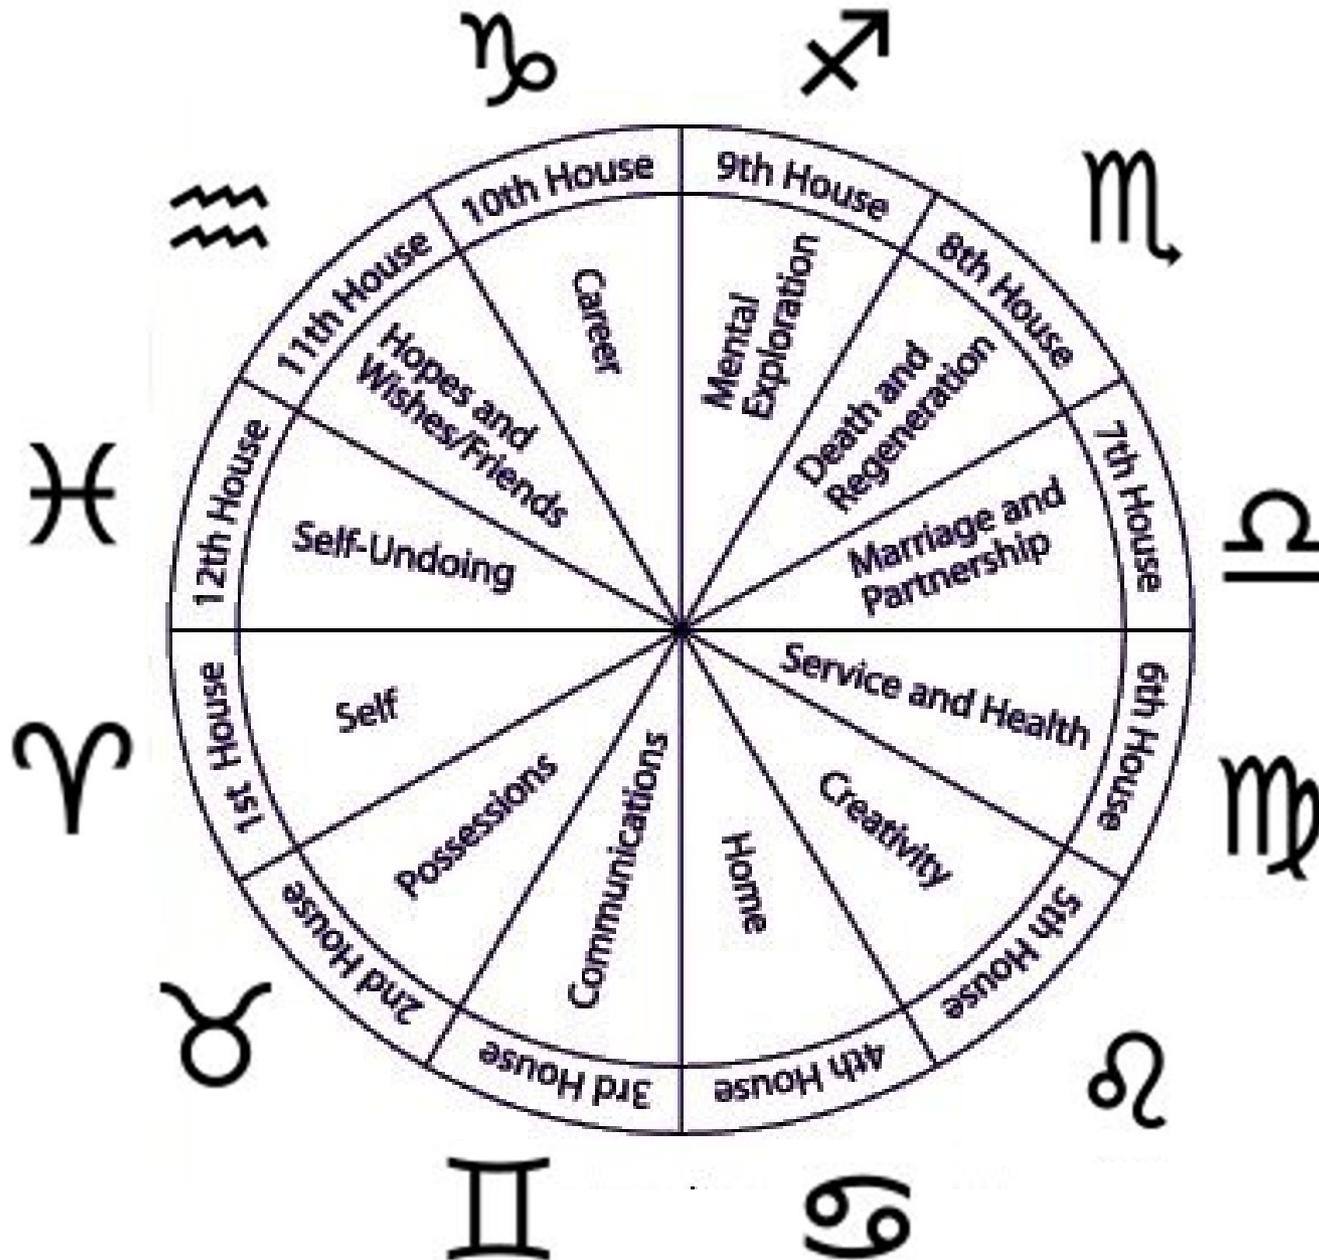

Chart Dividers

- The Equator divides North and South
 - North is home-oriented, ruled by Cancer
 - South is worldly, ruled by Capricorn
- The Meridian divides East and West
 - East is the independent side, ruled by Aries
 - West is relationship oriented, ruled by Libra

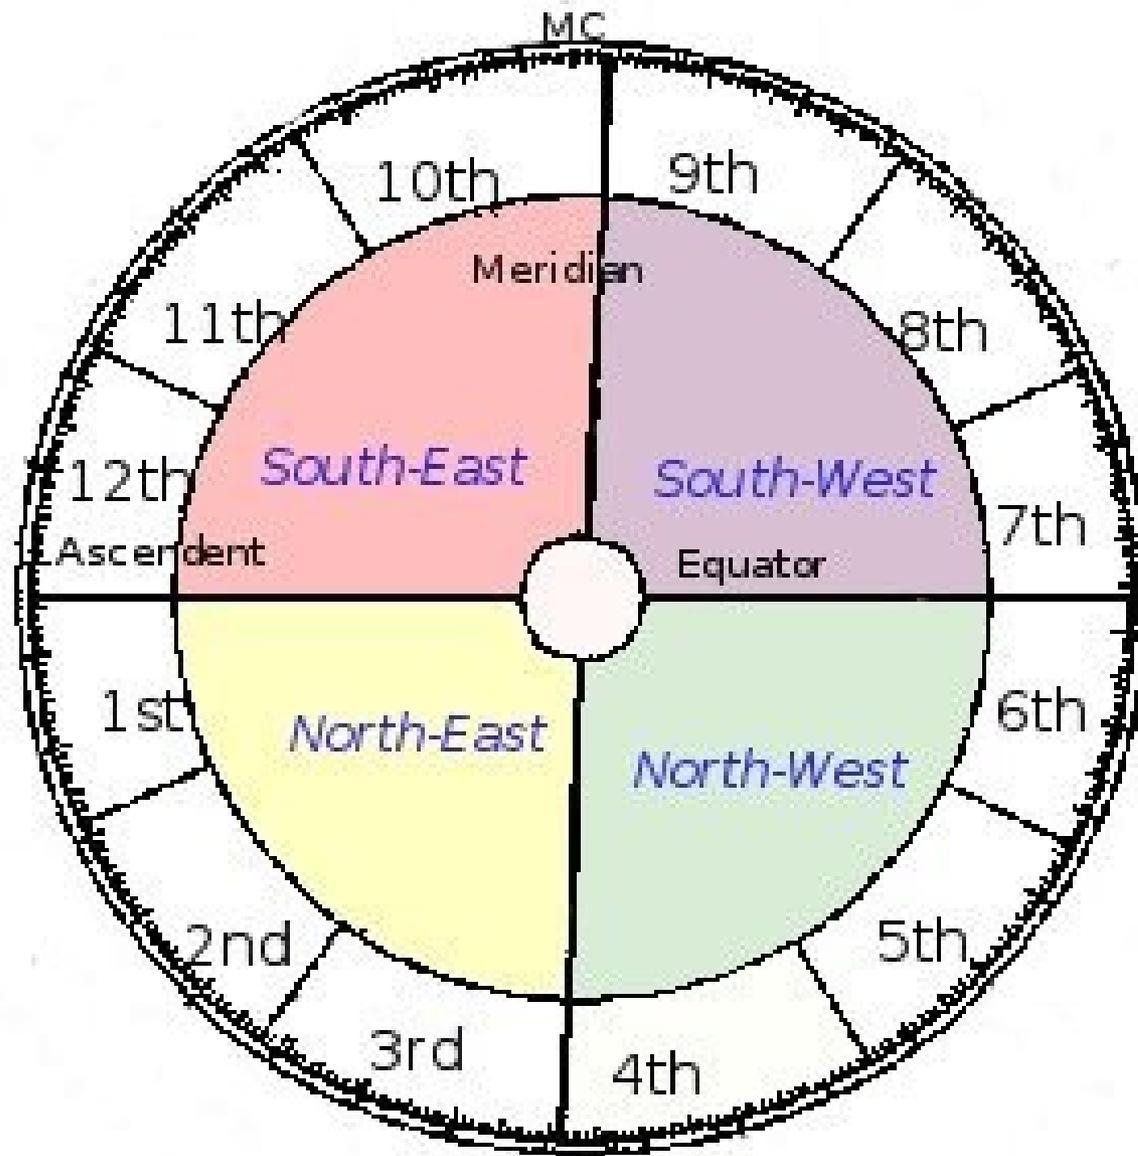

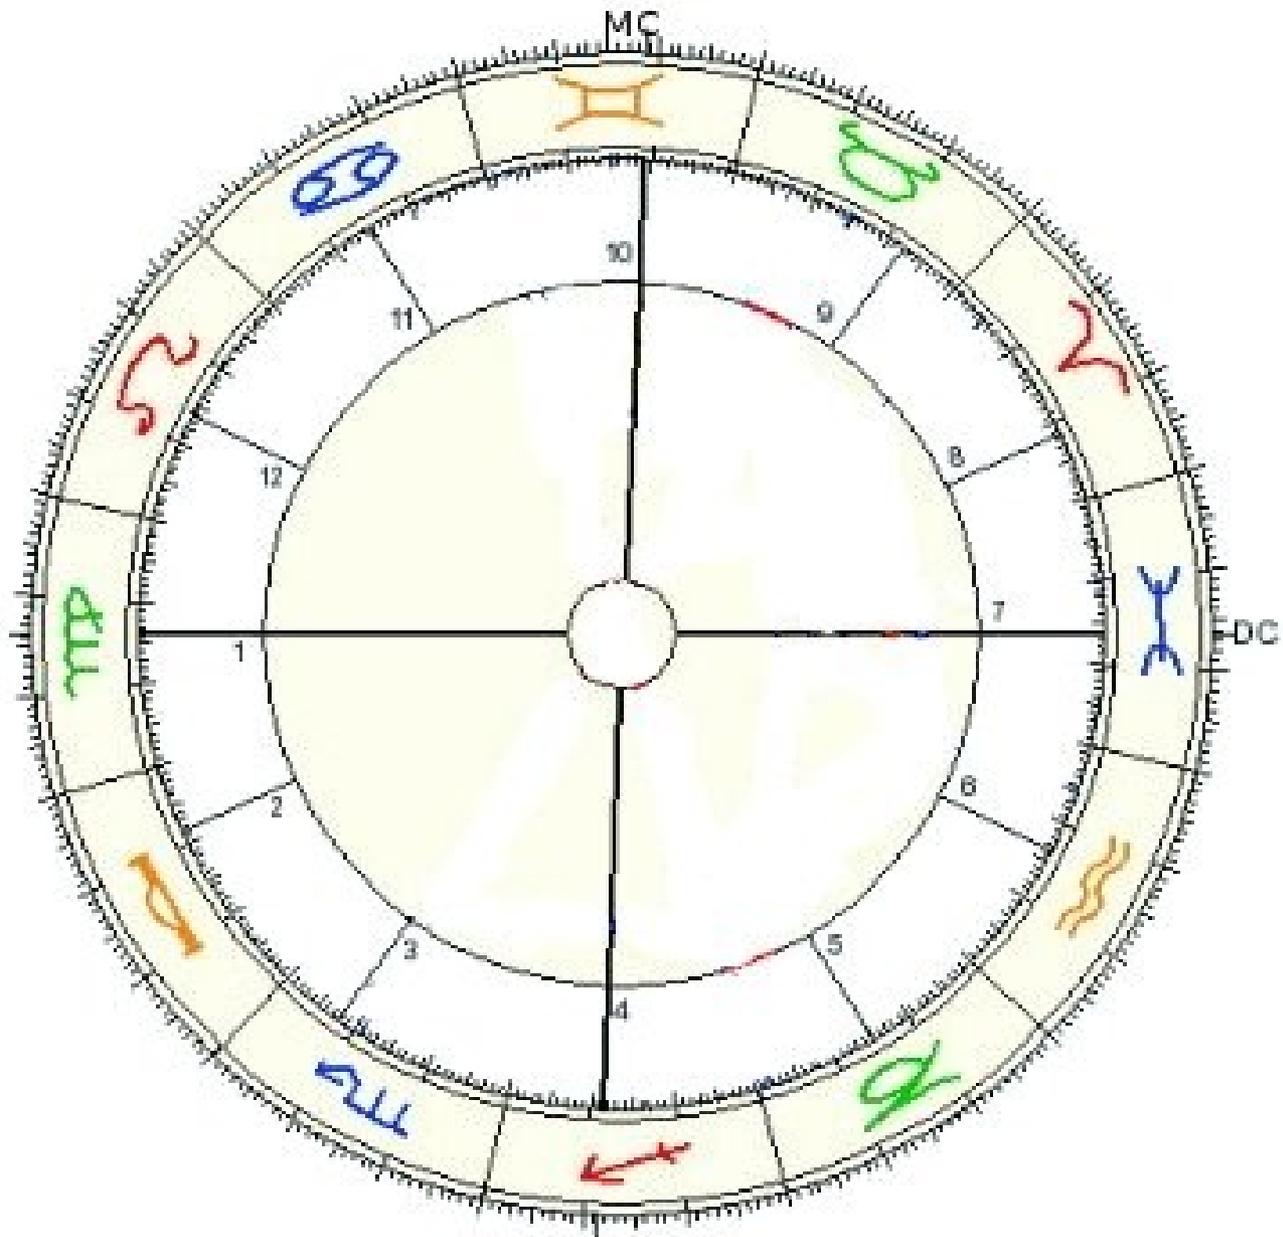

Chart Points

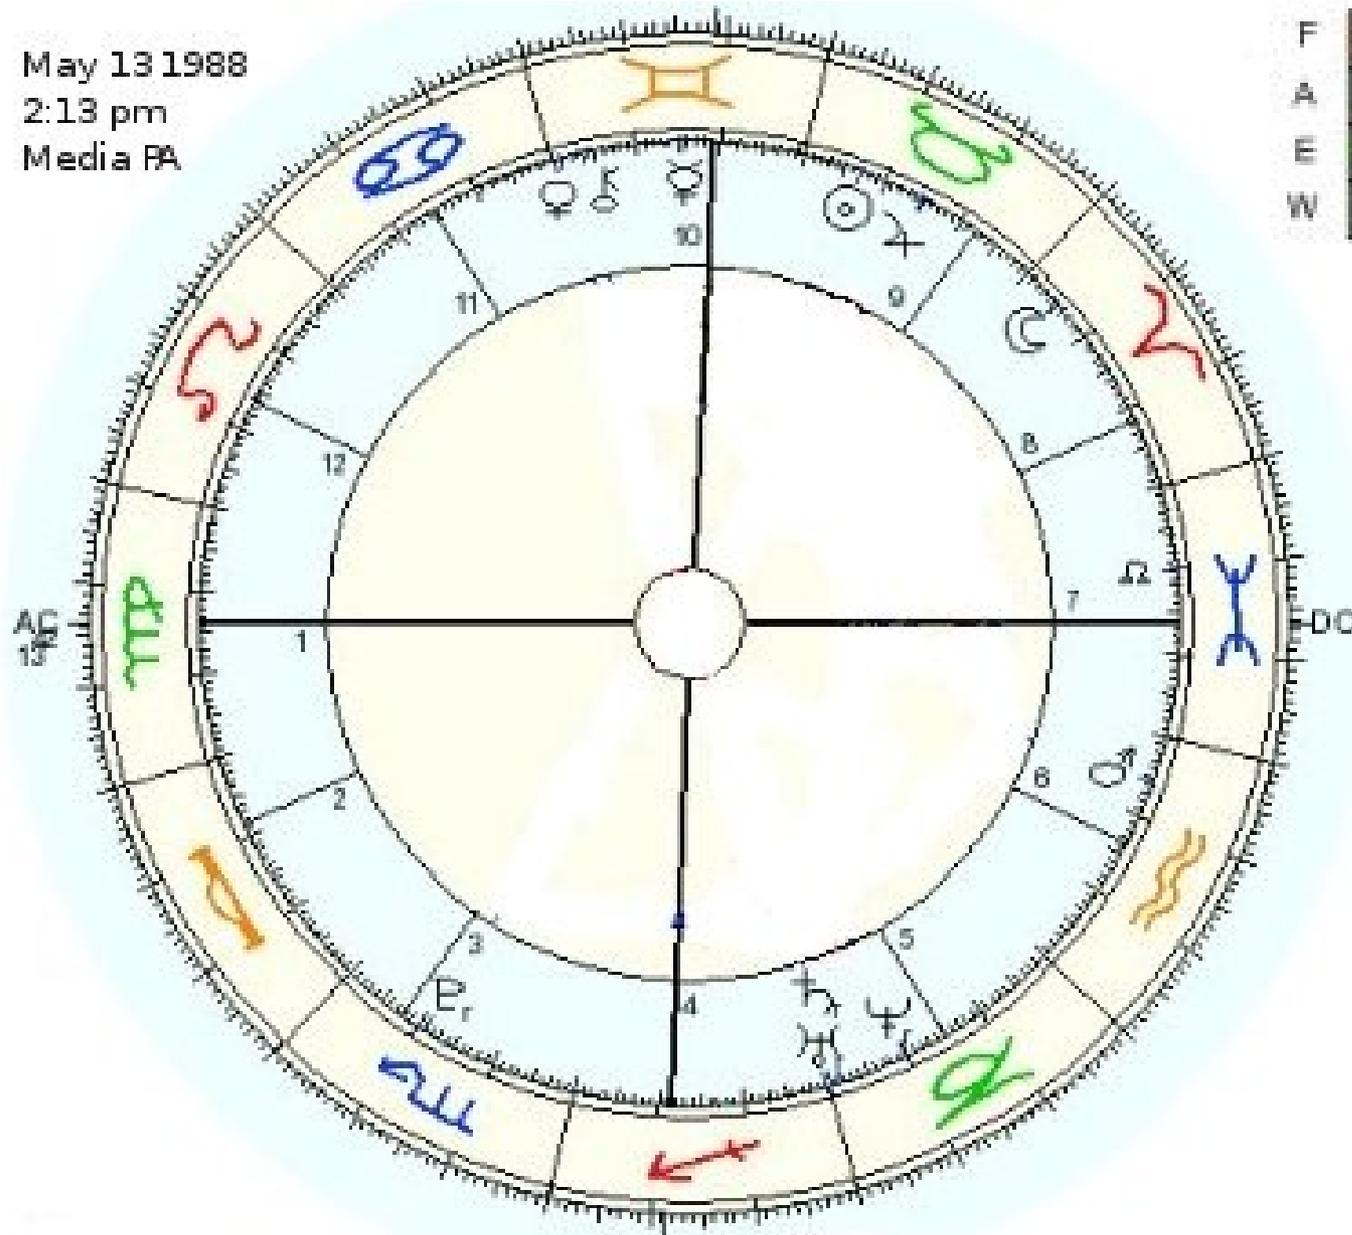

- The First House Cusp
 - The Ascendent shows the self-image and appearance
- The Fourth House Cusp
 - Shows one parent and home life
- The Seventh House Cusp
 - The Descendent which shows marriage
- The Tenth House Cusp
 - The MC, shows career potential and other parent

Analysis Level 1: Overview

- Using the quadrants
- Counting the elements
- Counting the cardinalities
- House emphasis by planets

The Overview – What Can We Learn?

- 7 planets to the west, 3 to the east indicates more dependent on others than independent
- 5 planets south, 5 north – not significant
- Elemental breakdown: 1 Fire, 1 Water, 3 Air, 5 Earth so Earth is dominant
- Quality breakdown: 4 Cardinal, 4 Fixed, 2 Mutable so more initiative and stable than changeable

Overview continued

- Check the house qualities: 5 planets are angular, 1 succedant and 4 in cadent houses – this adds more energy and adaptability to the chart
- Overview tells us this personality likes to be involved with others, is generally stable and reliable but also possesses initiative
- What this does is provide a framework for the planetary delineations – for instance “flighty” would not apply to this chart.

Delineation

- Delineation is the process of defining the role and activity of each planet in a horoscope and its relationships to other planets
- Start with the sign the planet is in – what role is the planet in and how happy is it?
- Then go to the house – what stage is the planet acting on and how well does it perform?
- Try to make a sentence for each planet and check with the overview

Guidelines for delineation

- Start with the Sun, the Moon and the Ascendent to get a basic sketch of the personality
- When delineating the general method going from the 1st house to the 12th but any method will do
- No planets in a house simply means there is less emphasis in this region than activated houses

Sun Delineation

- Sun is in Taurus in the 9th house
- Sun is not in dignity, exaltation, fall or detriment
- Taurus is earthiest of earth signs being fixed
- 9th house represents distant relationships
- Translate this into a sentence
 - The inner self wants to shine by being stable, artistic and easygoing in the house of mental exploration and long-distance

Moon Delineation

- Moon is in Aries in 8th House
- The Moon is feminine, watery and passive, Aries the most fiery fire sign, thus a conflict
- 8th house is the natural house of Scorpio, a sign ruled by Mars, which rules Aries
- Thus: The emotions may tend to be passionate and impulsive, perhaps hard to control in the 8th house, which rules death, surgery and other people's resources

Ascendant Delineation

- Ascendant is in Virgo. The face this person shows to the world is reserved, can be quiet and shy but likes to be helpful as well.
- Add together Sun and Moon to Ascendant: we get a person who has a very stable and art-loving nature with an intense emotional life but a quiet outer bearing that belies this
- Compare this with the overview

Delineating the chart

- Pluto is in Scorpio in the 3rd house
 - The intense urge to reform by communicating
- Mars in Aquarius in the 6th house
 - Energy is put into service but in an individual way
- Mercury in Gemini in the 10th
 - Reasoning ability is versatile, can be used in career
- Venus is in Gemini in the 10th house
 - Affectionate urge expressed in an intellectual and friendly way, creating a popular public image(10th)

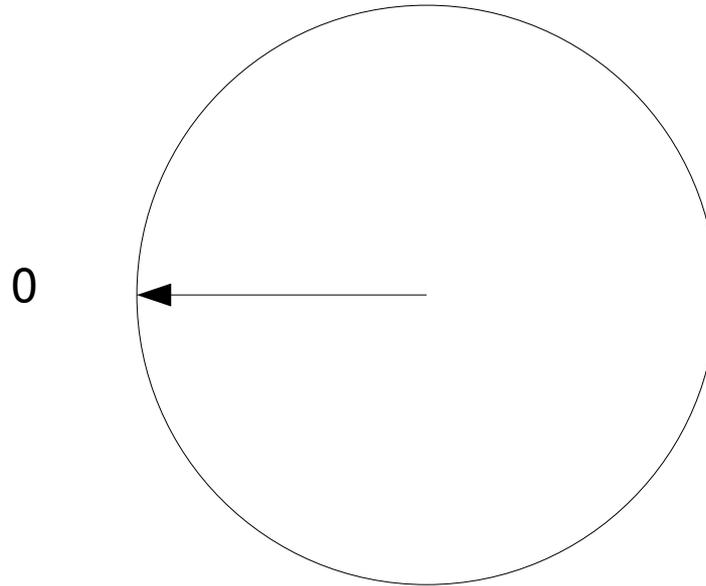

Aspects

- When a planet makes an angle that falls into certain parameters with another planet, this is called an aspect.
- Aspects are relationships between planets
- There are 6 major aspects that we will consider
- Flowing aspects are the conjunct, trine and sextile
- Challenging aspects are the square, inconjunct and opposition

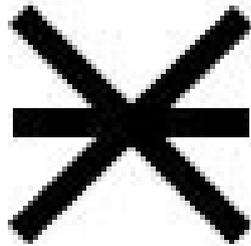

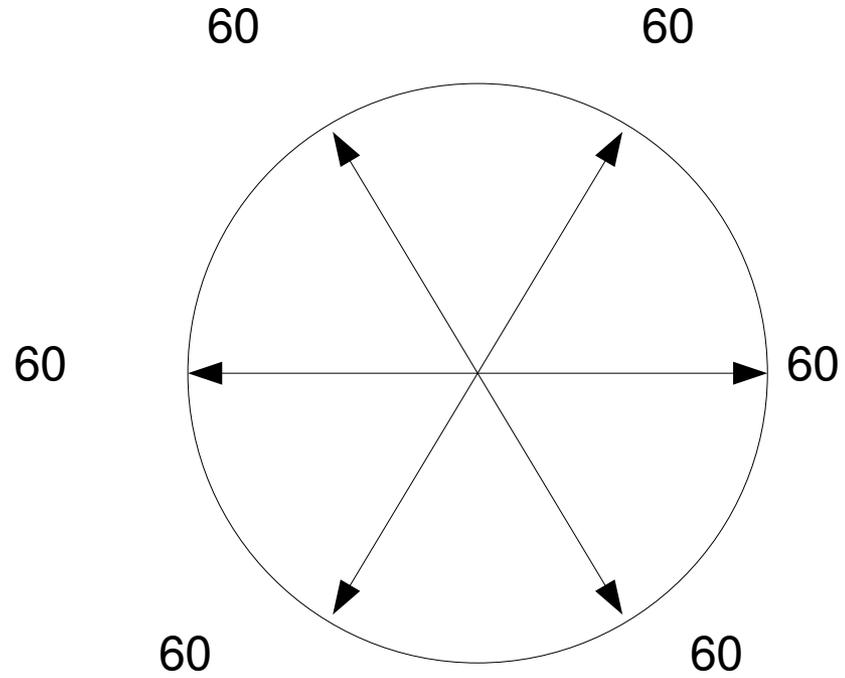

Aspect Chart

Aspect	Symbol	Keyword	Degree
Conjunct		Emphasis	0
Sextile		Opportunity	60
Square		Challenge	90
Trine		Flow	120
Inconjunct		Adjustment	150
Opposition		Awareness	180
