

LETTER OF INVITATION

On behalf of ESBRI, Entrepreneurship and Small Business Institute, I am delighted to invite you to Stockholm, Sweden, for the 2014 Diana International Research Conference and the 2014 Global Symposium on Women's Entrepreneurship, June 15-18, 2014.

These conferences will bring together thought leaders from academia, business and policy around the world. By organizing the two conferences back-to-back, we aim to lay the foundation for a global network enhancing women's entrepreneurship. Over time, we hope to bring together all the global stakeholders who are needed to make real change: entrepreneurs, financiers, service-providers, academics, educators, policy makers, and media representatives. Therefore, the symposium and the network both have a multi-stakeholder approach.

Please note that this invitation to participate does not, in any way, financially oblige ESBRI. All conference participants are solely responsible to cover the various costs of participation; the conference registration fee, transportation, and miscellaneous travel costs. All conference participants are expected to pay the registration fees according to conference policy. Your registration fee covers all conference sessions, reception, lunches, breaks and one dinner.

The organizers of the conference do not take any responsibility for injury or damage involving persons or property. Participants are advised to take out their own personal insurance.

The main conference venue is 7A Odenplan. For information on transportation and hotel accommodations, please visit the conference web site at www.esbri.se/june2014

Please do not hesitate to contact us if you should have any questions or need additional information. We look forward to welcome you to the 2014 Diana International Research Conference and/or the 2014 Global Symposium on Women's Entrepreneurship.
