means smarter, more effective pest control without unnecessary pesticides.

Why? Because Green Shield Certified uses a prevention-based approach, called "Integrated Pest Management" (IPM), which focuses on the actual root cause of your pest problem.

Closing off entryways that pests use to get in, removing their food source, and disrupting their biological life cycles will typically provide a more effective, lasting solution than spray-intensive services.

Green Shield Certified brings you pest control with peace of mind:

- Certified providers meet high performance standards and have expertise in effective, prevention-based techniques.
- Pesticide use is avoided or limited, and only carefully screened pesticide products are permitted.
- Independent, third-part verification ensures that Green Shield Certified performance standards are maintained, and your family's health protected.
