

During your decision making process, consider the following.

- ☐ Visa and permits. Research to find a visa or permit that meets your circumstance.
- ☐ Moving expense. Make a conservative estimate the expenses you are likely to incur.
- ☐ Consider taking a short trip to get the feel for the climate and culture.
- ☐ Consider learning the local language, if the language is not your mother tongue.
- ☐ Consider your job options. Scour job boards and talk to recruitment agencies to learn what options are available to you, with your skill set.
- ☐ Consider the cost of travelling between your native and host country. The time and expense may be prohibitive for frequent visits.
- ☐ If you have children, consider the schooling and childcare they will need.

3-6 months before the move

- ☐ Decide how much you want to take with you, store, give away, or throw out.
 - If you are moving or storing furniture, get 2-3 quotes.
 - If you are buying furniture on arrival, consider second-hand furniture to keep expenses down.
- ☐ Research the local suburbs and rental prices.
- ☐ Research the cost of living expenses.
 - Check out online supermarkets, utility providers, and public transport websites to be aware of the cost of living.

1-2 month before the move

- ☐ Contact your utility company to inform them of your move. Arrange to have your phone/ water/electricity/cable to be shut off on the day after your move.
- ☐ Organise for your mail to be forwarded to your new address.
- ☐ Alert your friends and family of your pending change of address.
- ☐ Cancel or redirect your memberships or subscriptions, such as magazine subscriptions, gym memberships, credit cards, book clubs etc.
- ☐ Arrange for your medical files to be transferred to your new doctor.
- ☐ Research institutions that you are likely to use in your host country, such as banks, insurance and health care providers.
- ☐ Collect boxes and begin packing items that are used least.
- ☐ If you have children, begin the paperwork required to transfer schools.

Before departure

- ☐ Pack your personal travel bag.
 - It should consist of important documents, a change of clothes, and toiletries.
- ☐ Be present while movers are loading the truck.
- ☐ After the truck is loaded, check the house one last time.
 - Check all drawers, closets and cupboards.
 - Remember to close all the windows and turn off the utilities.
- ☐ Take readings of your utility meters.

On arrival

- ☐ Be present while movers are unloading the truck.
- ☐ Get a new phone number with a local provider.
- ☐ Open a bank account.
- ☐ Look for a rental home, if you don't already have one arranged.
- ☐ Sign up to turn on the phone/electricity/gas/cable to your new home.
