

Dear Sir,

I apologize for the late submission and hope that it is not too late.

In relation to involving stakeholders, I would like to suggest that existing groups such as consumers associations and resident groups also be consulted as well as specific health groups.

Secondly, I would like to suggest that levels of chemicals, including flame retardants, alkyl phenols and other chemicals commonly used in the every day environment be monitored on a regular basis.

I am a member of Irish Doctors' Environmental Association but am writing to you in a voluntary capacity.

I wish you well in your deliberations.

Kind regards

Elizabeth Cullen (Dr.)
