

Copenhagen, 31 October 2016

STEEN FRIIS DESIGN A/S

Interior and Graphic Designer for ship interior design studio in Copenhagen

Steen Friis Design A/S is looking for a creative and inspirational interior and graphic designer, who wants to design the ships of the future. Experience in ship design is a plus, but not a must – we will introduce you to the specifics of ship design.

Steen Friis Design A/S is a design studio specialised in ship interiors. We are experiencing rapid growth and high demand for innovative newbuilding designs as well as retrofits, and we are involved in a series of high-profile projects spanning diverse vessel types such as a brand new ferry, platforms and rigs as well as a new hospital ship to name a few. We are part of OSK-ShipTech A/S – one of Denmark's leading naval architecture and ship design companies, and you will be working on projects for both companies.

Job description

You will join our team of ship interior architects and naval architects and will be working on design concepts for passenger ferries and other vessel types; i.e. interior fittings for cabins, layouts of lounges, restaurants, galleys, shops etc. as well as lighting and decorations including signage, exterior styling and corporate branding.

You must be interested in working with the newest trends in design, digitalisation and on-board facilities. You will also be involved in graphic design tasks, both on ship design projects as well as in-house designer in connection with marketing and publicity.

Our new colleague preferably possesses experience within the following areas:

- Concept designs and interiors as well as detailed designs
- Technical drawing skills
- Graphic design, signage and corporate branding
- Fluent in AutoCad, Illustrator, Indesign
- English in speaking and writing – we service clients all over the world
- Experience with 3D renderings (Rhino) and Photoshop is an advantage, but not a demand.

We expect you to be creative and innovative, enterprising and autonomous. You strive with complex projects and tight deadlines, and you take great pride in always ensuring the highest possible quality and the best looking and most functional vessels.

Work place

Steen Friis Design studio is part of OSK-ShipTech's Copenhagen-department, and you will be working here with 25+ colleagues of naval architects and marine engineers in an informal and relaxed atmosphere with a strong work ethic but all with an innovative approach to ship design.

STEEN FRIIS DESIGN A/S

Copenhagen, 31 October 2016

Salary, working time etc.

We offer a competitive salary package matching your qualifications and experience including several benefits. It is a full time position, and you should expect to travel occasionally to customers and yards in connection with projects.

Start and reference

Start as soon as possible or 1 January 2017. You will refer to Kristian Carøe Lind, CEO of Steen Friis Design, as well as Camilla Caroline Horn, Head of Interior and Accommodation for OSK-ShipTech.

Contact and clarifications

If you have any questions to the position, please do not hesitate to contact us.

Camilla Caroline Horn

Head of Interior and Accommodation, OSK-ShipTech A/S, Copenhagen

Mobile +45 20 65 66 33

Email: cch@osk-shiptech.com

www.osk-shiptech.com

www.sfdesign.dk

Deadline and practical information

Email us your cover letter, CV, diplomas and other relevant documentation as soon as possible and not later than 11 November 2016.

Email your application to Lead on Department Marketing & Administration, Anne Kofoed Vilsøe on akv@osk-shiptech.com

Please note that we are interviewing potential clients on a running basis.