

EFESE project team

proudly presents and kindly invites you to two events that will be held in beginning of June 2016 in Ljubljana, Slovenia.

Our one-day international seminar will focus on various issues on establishing and especially accrediting of common European study programmes. Our one-week young researcher school will be dedicated to the research methodology and comparison of Social Security systems.

Inspiring speakers will present best practices, share knowledge, experience and encourage discussions. Detailed agendas are available at: <http://efese.eu/> and <http://www.pf.uni-lj.si/konference/efese/>

Contact:

Faculty of Law, University of Ljubljana
Poljanski nasip 2, 1000 Ljubljana, Slovenia
efese@pf.uni-lj.si
<http://efese.eu>

About EFESÉ

The European Format for Exchange of Social Security Education (EFESÉ) encourages the development and exchange of blended courses among diverse universities in Europe. On the basis of the commonly designed courses the project aims to design a truly European comprehensive curriculum on social security that will be accessible with help of virtual mobility of both teachers and students.

International Seminar

“The challenges and opportunities for the accreditation of common European study programmes”

June 6, 2016

Target groups:

Academics/Academic institutions; Policy makers at national, European and international level; Professionals (sub-) national social security administrations; PhD students and/or researchers focusing on social security.

Focus of the seminar is set on required procedural steps at institutional and national level, in order to develop a fully recognized and accredited Master in European social security. Different topics, directly or indirectly connected with the procedure of accreditation will be discussed, such as the types and forms of joint study programmes; types and forms of diplomas; accreditation procedure; rules on the study order; assurance and evaluation of the quality, etc.

The seminar consists of two sessions. In first sessions brief papers from eminent experts will be presented. Second session will start with the presentation of the results of the ‘feasibility study’ and continue with a round table on exchanging good and bad practices when building joint study programmes.

Agenda

09h00	Registration
09h30	Welcome and introduction to the EFESÉ project Prof Dr Miha Juhart, Dean of the Faculty of Law, University of Ljubljana Prof Dr Paul Schoukens, EFESÉ coordinator, KU Leuven, Belgium
09h45	Exchanging knowledge and teaching in higher education Prof Dr Goran Turk, Vice-Rector of University of Ljubljana – tbc
10h00	Joint study programmes and their accreditation procedure Dr Alenka Braček Lalić, CEEMAN IQA Accreditation Director, Research Fellow at IEDC-Bled School of Management
10h30	Coffee break
11h00	Towards an accredited blended master in European social security: feasibility study Prof Dr Grega Strban Faculty of Law, University of Ljubljana As Iztok Štefanec, Faculty of Law, University of Ljubljana
11h30	Building a joint study programme: from challenge and effort towards added value Round table: sharing experience and knowledge, general discussion
12h30	Lunch

Young Researchers School

“Research Methodology in Comparative Social Security”

June 6–10, 2016, Ljubljana, Slovenia

Target groups:

PhD students and/or researchers focusing on social security

What research methodology is most suitable for the field of Social Security that is becoming more (internationally) interdependent and interdisciplinary as ever? How do the research tools differ when adopting legal, economic, data or, for instance, sociological approach? How to design our research in order to obtain optimum results? How to apply comparative method in the field of Social Security? These and many other questions will be addressed in our practice-oriented five-day school for young researchers.

‘Modus operandi’ of the young researchers school will be the discussion, workshops and role playing. Participants will also present their papers and receive peer evaluation of their research work.

Meet, share and cooperate with eminent experts and colleagues! Do not miss the excursion and the farewell dinner, either.

Agenda

Monday, 6th of June 2016

14h00 Welcome and introduction to the Young Researchers School

Prof Dr Paul Schoukens, KU Leuven, Belgium

14h30 Lecture ‘Introduction into comparison of social security and social protection’

Prof Dr Gijs Vonk, University of Groningen

Prof Dr Ulrich Becker, LL.M. (EHI), MPISoc

16h00 Coffee break

16h30 Presentation and discussion of research papers by participants

Tuesday, 7th of June 2016

09h00 Lecture ‘Social security and social protection: an economic approach’

Prof Dr Ruud Muffels, Tilburg University

10h30 Coffee break

11h00 Presentation and discussion of research papers by participants

12h30 Lunch

14h00 Lecture ‘Social security and social protection: a data approach’

Dr Koen Vleminckx, Director Research & International Cooperation, Belgian International Cooperation on Social Protection (BELINCOSOC)

15h30 Coffee break

16h00 Presentation and discussion of research papers by participants

17h30 The role of young researchers in academic life and society (research ethics and integrity)’

Prof Dr Dr h.c. Janez Kranjc, University Ljubljana

Wednesday, 8th of June 2016

09h00 Lecture ‘Social security and social protection: a sociology approach’

Prof Dr Tilen Štajnpihler, University of Ljubljana

10h30 Coffee break

11h00 Presentation and discussion of research papers by participants

12h30 Lunch

14h00 Presentation and discussion of research papers by participants

16h00 Excursion (to be confirmed)

Thursday, 9th of June 2016

09h00 Presentation and discussion of research papers by participants

10h30 Coffee break

11h00 Presentation and discussion of research papers by participants

12h30 Lunch

14h00 Role game introduction

Prof Dr Paul Schoukens, KU Leuven

Prof Dr Grega Strban, University of Ljubljana

15h30 Coffee break

from 16h00 Role game preparation

Friday, 10th of June 2016

till 12h30 Role game preparation

12h30 Lunch

14h00 Role game

16h30 Evaluation of the Workshop

19h30 Farewell Dinner