

An Apology Letter To Bob Cratchit 2B Mai Hui Qing

Dear Bob,

I am writing to say sorry to you because I have been unkind to you.

In the past, I was mean and selfish. I was stingy with the coal for the fire, so you were shivering when you were working in the office. You had to warm yourself with a candle. I thought it was not all right to pay wages for no work. Therefore I did not want you to have day off at Christmas. You have a large family and your poor son is crippled and has to use a crutch. Your family had only a small goose and a small pudding for Christmas dinner. But your hearts were full of warmth and happiness.

Now I will change and be kind at Christmas. I will try to be kind all year. I will send a huge turkey to you. I will also raise your salary and become a second father of your son.

I wish you a merry Christmas and a happy new year.

Yours sincerely,
Ebenezer

Teacher's Feedback : The apology letter is sincere and touching. You are skilful in using a variety of tenses in the description. I could visualize the scene when I read the letter. Ebenezer has really changed and is looking forward to his new life. (Miss Poon Po Lay)

Food For Thought : Is there anyone you want to say sorry to? If yes, what do you want to tell him /her?
