

HAMARTIA

The Three Witches tell Macbeth a prophecy that causes Macbeth to take matters into his hands (ambition).

HUBRIS

Macbeth's pride combines with his ambition, and that of his wife. They plot to kill the current King so that he can usurp the throne.

PERIPETEIA

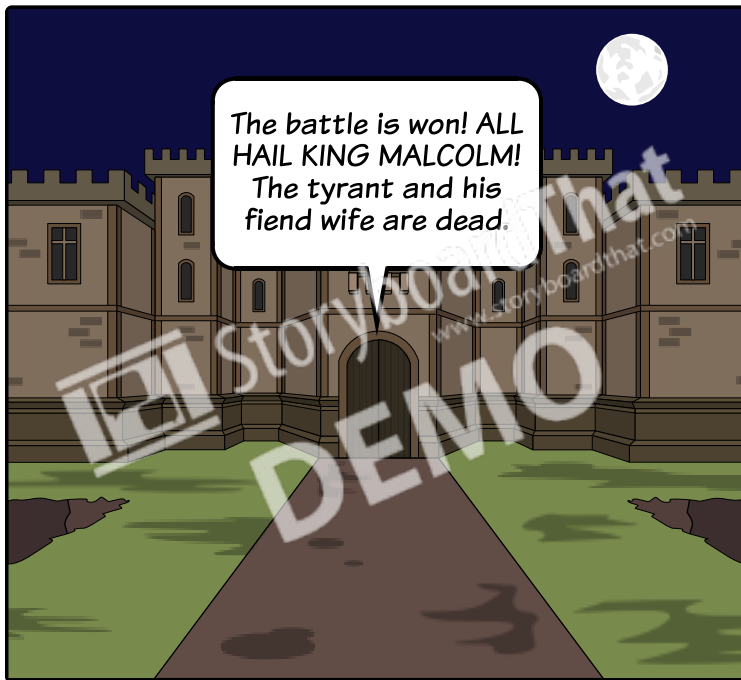

After killing the King and numerous others, Macbeth and Lady Macbeth become suspicious and paranoid.

ANAGNORISIS

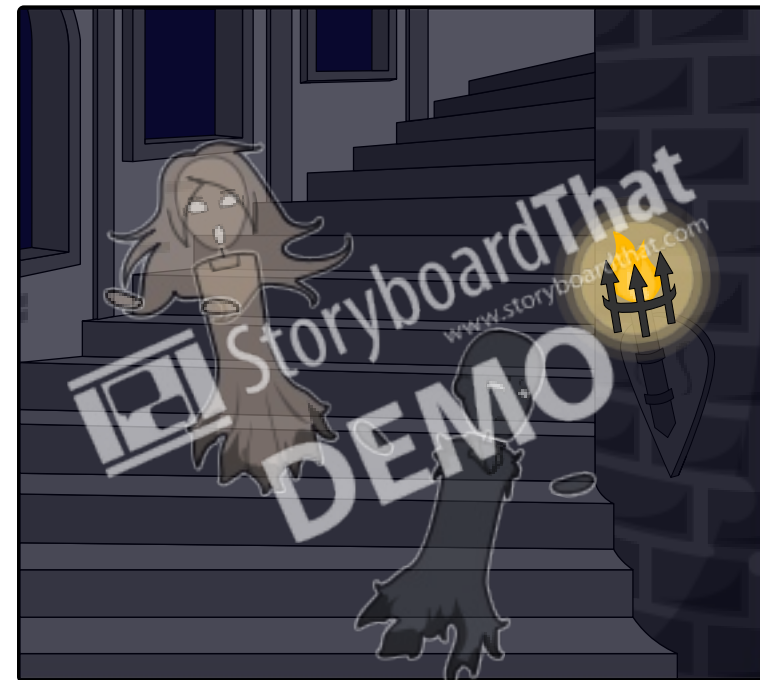

Macbeth discovers that the former king's son is planning a rebellion against him.

NEMESIS

In the end, the witches' final prophecy comes true and Macbeth is killed.

CATHARSIS

The audience is left with the feeling of pity that Macbeth was tempted by the witches, and fear that they could also do terrible things out of ambition.
