

Feature Writing For Elementary Students

Title

- Simple and Fun: Use clear, catchy titles that hint at the adventure or learning journey ahead.

Introduction

- Start with a Bang: Begin with an exciting fact, question, or short story to grab their attention.
- Introduce the Subject: Clearly state what or who the feature is about in a way that's easy for children to understand.

Main Body

- Use Simple Language: Write in straightforward, age-appropriate language, avoiding complex terms or jargon.
- Incorporate Characters: If possible, present information through the experiences of characters they can relate to or admire.
- Engaging Format: Use short paragraphs, bullet points, and lots of subheadings to break up text and make it easier to digest.
- Visual Elements: Include colorful images, drawings, or diagrams to illustrate points and add visual interest.
- Educational Content: Weave in learning moments naturally, such as interesting facts or life lessons, without making it feel like a traditional lesson.
- Interactive Elements: Suggest activities, questions for reflection, or simple experiments related to the topic to encourage active engagement.

Conclusion

- Wrap Up with a Highlight: Summarize the key points or the moral of the story in a memorable way.
- Encourage Curiosity: End with a question or a teaser about another interesting fact or story, motivating them to learn more on their own.

Sidebar (Optional)

- Glossary: Explain any difficult words used in the article.
- Did You Know?: A box with fun facts related to the feature's topic.
