		Yes	No	Notes
Engine	Is the engine block clean and clear of any oily residue? A leak may be a sign that the engine doesn't hold oil well.
	Is the engine oil the correct color? New, clean oil is amber in color. Darker or yellowing oil may be a sign of a problem.
Electrical System	Is the dashboard free of any illuminated warning lights?
	Is the electrical wiring working properly? Check turn signals and stereo components.
	Are the battery terminals free of signs of corrosion? Make sure to ask how old the battery is.
Body Condition	Is the vehicle body free of damage or rust?
	Are the windows and windshield free of cracks?
Fluid Levels	Are the coolant reservoir and radiator free of leaks?
	Is the power steering working properly? Difficulty turning the steering wheel can indicate power steering problems.
	Is the brake system in good condition? If the brake pedal feels soft or spongy, there's probably trouble.
Doors and Windows	Are the door and window seals in good condition?
	Are all power windows, doors and seats working properly?
Air Flow and Air Conditioning	Is the air conditioning working?
	Does the air conditioning have good air flow? Check for good air flow on both hot and cold settings.
Warranty	Is the original manufacturer's warranty still valid?
	Does it have additional repair coverage, such as a vehicle service contract?
Other	Is the suspension system working properly? Put pressure on the area of the vehicle above each tire to test.
	Are the headlights and all other vehicle lights working properly?
	Are the belts and hoses free of any signs of dry rot or wear?
	Are the tires properly inflated and is there sufficient tread depth? Improperly worn tires can be a signal of tire underinflation or poor alignment.
	Does it have a clear title? Check and verify the vehicle's title to make sure it isn't a salvage.

Not currently available in AK, MO, and WA. Information provided is for summary purposes only. See Registration Page and Terms and Conditions for complete details. Not all vehicles are eligible for coverage. All plans require a mandatory Waiting Period before coverage takes effect, which starts from the contract purchase date and vehicle's odometer mileage at contract purchase date. Covered services are also subject to a $100 deductible, per visit. Plans referenced are not insurance; they are Vehicle Service Contracts [except in CA, where coverage is sold as mechanical breakdown insurance (MBI), which is not the same as bodily injury/property damage liability automobile insurance that may be required]. Coverage under MBI differs from Vehicle Service Contracts. Contact Toco for information on coverage available in CA.
