Physical space issues – some concern with embedded counsellor locations, some office spaces are not pleasant (e.g., windowless).

Appointment issues – more flexibility, online booking, allowing contact between sessions, concern that certain students are getting longer term therapy while others are only getting a few sessions (but want more), confusion at times due to double booking, phones messages not responded to.

Counsellor issues – some concern about what to do if the client feels there is not a good fit with the counsellor, ensuring counsellors have a high level of training in effective therapies, new/more counsellors.

Other – more awareness of our services on campus, figure out a way to target or reach out to struggling students.

- Physical space issues – change location due to privacy issues - e.g., friends seeing you leave the office, noise issues and concerns about being able to hear sessions in the waiting room, difficulty getting through on the phone.
- Appointment issues – more frequent appointments, less time between appointments, waiting time for counsellors is too long.
- Counsellor issues – more counsellors to talk to students, training in cultural/sexuality/identity issues, provide more education about the therapy process so clients aren't confused when asked questions that seem off-topic or not all problems are treated at once.
