ABOUT US

Milieu Landscape Design is an award winning Chartered Landscape Architecture practice based in the Ribble Valley, Lancashire, with projects across the UK. Established in 2009 following the transfer of the landscape team from Bureau Veritas, we recently celebrated our 10th anniversary, but the company's origins date back to 1983 when Ian Clare opened the first office in Liverpool. In 2019 Chris Forshaw CMLI succeeded Ian as Company Director.

Our small dedicated team continues to provide a wide range of landscape services in many areas, including the growing retirement and holiday sectors. Additionally, we have been lucky enough to be part of a team of professionals assisting Edge Hill University in Ormskirk in the development of its award-winning campus. With experience across a broad range of landscape topics, and particular skills in sports developments, social housing, historic landscapes and landscape planning, as well as additional skills in SUDS, 3D visualisation and more recently BIM.

Our commitment to a personal, imaginative, practical and cost-effective service remains solid as ever, as does our belief in a sustainable future based on good design and strong partnerships.

OUR VALUES

Our vision as a company is;

- To inspire our clients and the public they serve, by the creation of design solutions that exceed expectations, and improve the human spirit, the public realm and biodiversity.
- To continually learn from the natural world, other practitioners, and the scientific community about new and effective techniques for sustainable design and management.
- To provide our staff with a challenging, respectful and exciting place of work.

Our mission is;

- To deliver our vision and build on 30 years of landscape consultancy, with attentive service to our clients a prime objective.
- To continue to provide market leading consultancy advice in all areas of landscape design and planning, and to provide specialist advice in the particular areas of sport, leisure, housing and heritage.
- To provide a professional, cost effective, and imaginative consultancy service which seeks to understand client's aspirations, helping them deliver their projects on time and to budget in a sustainable way.
