SECTION I. BACKGROUND, OVERVIEW, AND GOALS

A. Background

Founded on the principles of temperance, religion, education, agriculture, irrigation, cooperation, and family values, the original settlers of Greeley envisioned a utopian community on the high plains of northern Colorado. One hundred-fifty years later, contemporary residents again imagine a remarkable future for Greeley. The City recently completed the Imagine Greeley Comprehensive Plan, which includes the City's goals, policies and the Plan's implementation strategies. One of these strategies includes the implementation of municipal code updates that reflect the recommendations within the City's Comprehensive Plan.

The City's most recent Development Code overhaul occurred in 1998. Over the years, the City has adopted amendments within the Code, such as, landscape and parking standards update (2009), sign code update (2010), wireless code (2019) and Historic Preservation (2019), along with other minor code amendments. The staff is currently working on an update to the sign code, as it relates to content neutrality.

As development has increased over the years, so has the need for updated development standards addressing current trends in land use patterns and development, as well as best management and planning practices. The City's Comprehensive Plan recognizes the current growth of the community and how the City will approach future growth, incorporating goals and policies for future land use decisions, as well as recommended strategies to achieve these goals. As such, key strategies for implementing the Comprehensive Plan include updates and development of the City's Municipal Code, Chapter 18, based on the recommendations of the Plan.

In early 2019, the City of Greeley adopted the City's Strategic Housing Plan, which including 9 major housing strategies:

1. Amend the Development Code to promote housing choice;
2. Minimize development costs for affordable housing;
3. Engage alternative housing providers to build affordable housing;
4. Improve the housing product mix;
5. Address the impact of raw water cost on housing affordability;
6. Complete subarea and neighborhood plans;
7. Create more ownership, move-up, and executive housing options;
8. Encourage vocational training, and apprentice programs for building trades; and
9. Facilitate development of manufactured home communities as an important affordable housing option.

B. Overview

The City of Greeley is seeking assistance from a highly qualified consultant to update the City's Development Code. The update will include a general modernization of the development code to provide clarity, improve overall functionality, and achieve greater sensitivity to the fabric and character of the City of Greeley. The update will focus on portions of the Development Code that are either deficient, outdated, overly complex or that otherwise unnecessarily inhibit development. The update will include both major and minor editing of the existing code language as well as original authoring of new provisions. The primary goals of this update are as follows:

1. Modernize and create user-friendly processes and procedures;
2. Target portions of the development codes that are problematic, or outdated and would, to the greatest extent, simplify and reduce review and approval times for development applications;
3. Establish efficient and flexible review and approval procedures throughout the code;
4. Create development standards that would facilitate and encourage redevelopment and business reinvestment within existing commercial corridors and stimulate infill development;
5. Create procedures for allowing alternative compliance to development standards to accommodate site context;
6. Implement strategic planning documents, such as the Comprehensive Plan (Imagine Greeley), and the 2019 Housing Strategic Plan. The Imagine Greeley plan materials are available at <http://greeleygov.com/services/lrp/imagine-greeley> and The City of Greeley Strategic Housing Plan is available at <http://greeleygov.com/docs/default-source/community-development/long-range-planning/strategic-housing-plan.pdf>
7. Being the code information conformance with any changed State or Federal law.

The City is seeking professionals who can work collaboratively with the City of Greeley's Planning staff to modernize the development code and establish clear, pragmatic, and responsible regulations. A targeted and incremental process for updating the code is envisioned over a timeframe of 18 months. City staff will provide leadership and direction throughout the project and will work alongside the selected consultant on the amendments. Staff will also serve as a liaison to the Development Code Update Committee, with limited participation by the contractor.

As directed by City staff, the selected consultant will address designated chapters or subject areas of the code in incremental fashion. It is anticipated that there will be nine (9) tasks, such subject areas to be processed through the Development Code Committee, Greeley's Planning Commission and Greeley's City Council. In this process, the consultant will be expected to develop solutions based on direct experience and on broader professional knowledge. The evaluation of options and development of innovative solutions will be a fundamental part of the process. As revisions are drafted, the amendments will be reviewed by City staff and by the Committee that oversees amendments to the Development Code. Through this process, the consultant will be in close communication with City staff and will attend at least eight (8) Committee meetings.

Video conferencing and other telecommunications will also be utilized throughout the project to aid in communication and collaboration.

As groups of amendments have been reviewed to the satisfaction of the Committee, City staff will undertake a public outreach process consisting of 6-10 public workshops. The consultant's participation with City staff in these public workshops will be necessary to present complex planning concepts to the public. It will be the consultant's responsibility to revise graphics proposed to clarify code provisions. City staff will provide the consultant with a general description of necessary code revisions requested by the Committee. Revisions would then be brought back to the Committee for consensus, before moving forward to Planning Commission, then onto City Council for adoption.

This incremental approach will allow critical deficiencies in the code to be corrected as we progress with the code updates. The process will also enable stakeholders (including the Committee, the Planning Commission, the City Council, the development community, the business community and the interested public) to acquire a stronger understanding of the specific amendments as they undergo review and approval.

Based on the nature of the process described above, this project may be well-suited to an individual or a consulting firm that can assign work to a staff member or team on an ongoing, but part-time basis. To this effect, the City of Greeley is seeking to establish a strong working relationship with a planning expert who can offer innovative zoning solutions to meet the City's planning and development goals. The consultant must have access to a land use attorney to review draft documents prior to submittal to the City. The consultant's land use attorney will consult, as needed, with the Greeley's City Attorney's office.

BUDGET

The City Council has allocated funding in 2020 for the Zoning Code Update. This funding allocation will remain available if the project continues beyond 2021.

C. Goals

The project scope includes some broader improvements to the codes along with specific, targeted amendments. The envisioned outcome is not a new or replacement code, or even a significantly restructured code; rather, an improved, more functional code that better achieves City priorities. For each task identified below, address challenges, solutions and benefits with respect to the primary goals stated in Subsection B.

Task 1: Assess the codes to identify strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, audit and constraints relating to contents and structure;

Task 2: Achieve a general modernization of the codes: provide clarity; update definitions; review of the PUD standards; and update use assignments in each zoning district, including uses that might move from special review to use by right and vice versa to achieve the stated purpose of the zone. Incorporate graphics as needed to illustrate standards and guidelines to increase clarity.

Task 3: Create infill development standards that encourage redevelopment and reinvestment. These standards should allow for mixed use and provide property owners with flexibility and alternative compliance methodologies with respect to project context. Form-based provisions should be incorporated where appropriate with possible incentives for innovative designs and sustainable development. This component should recognize the applicable policies and recommendations contained in the Comprehensive Plan. The Imagine Greeley Plan was adopted in 2018. The Housing Strategic Plan was adopted in early 2019.

Task 4: Develop one or more mixed density residential zone districts that eliminate reliance on PUD zoning for residential development and develop design standards for existing residential zone districts that address design compatibility as redevelopment occurs. The new district(s) should provide for mixed use opportunities and incorporate "complete neighborhood" concepts.

Task 5: With Staff, identify key focus subjects, such as assessor dwelling units, industrial design standards, and family occupancy standards for in-depth research and community conversations. There are likely about a half-dozen subjects requiring more in-depth research and community vetting.

Task 6: Simplify review and approval procedures for variances, special review, and planned unit development applications. The existing processes are complex, lack clarity, and result in a lengthy review and approval timeframes.

Task 7: Update and modernize the subdivision sections of the development code.

Task 8: Prepare materials for public workshops, such as posters, etc. Assists staff in developing an on-line resource to facilitate citizen input, by partnering with the City's Communications and Engagement Office.

Task 9: Provide new or revised codes that simplify the regulations for users and provide quick reference tools. Techniques envisioned include visual elements, such as drawings, graphics and cross-referencing tables.
