You could lose money by investing in the Schwab Money Funds. All Schwab Money Funds with the exception of Schwab Variable Share Price Money Fund seek to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, but cannot guarantee they will do so. Because the share price of Schwab Variable Share Price Money Fund will fluctuate, when you sell your shares they may be worth more or less than what you originally paid for them. All Schwab Money Funds with the exception of Schwab Government Money Fund, Schwab Retirement Government Money Fund, Schwab U.S. Treasury Money Fund, Schwab Treasury Obligations Money Fund and Schwab Government Money Market Portfolio may impose a fee upon the sale of your shares or may temporarily suspend your ability to sell shares if the Fund's liquidity falls below required minimums because of market conditions or other factors. An investment in the Schwab Money Funds is not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. The Schwab Money Funds' sponsor has no legal obligation to provide financial support to the Funds, and you should not expect that the sponsor will provide financial support to the Funds at any time.

Note: The dates disclosed are subject to change without notice.

<sup>1</sup> The ex-distribution date—or ex-date—is the date that mutual fund shares begin trading without the distribution. As a result, the fund's per-share net asset value will be reduced by the amount of the fund's per-share distribution on that date.

Schwab is a registered trademark of Charles Schwab & Co., Inc.

To receive a distribution, you must be a registered shareholder on the record date. Distributions are paid to shareholders on the payable date. Scheduled dividend distribution dates, including the payable date, may be subject to change. Past distributions are not indicative of future trends. There is no guarantee that distributions will be paid.

Schwab Asset Management™ is the dba name for Charles Schwab Investment Management, Inc., the investment adviser for Schwab Funds. Schwab Funds are distributed by Charles Schwab & Co., Inc.
