Abstract:

This Panel Session will discuss various aspects regarding opportunities for submitting and possibly getting papers published in the Journal of Information Systems Education (JISE), the leading academic journal in IS education. In addition, other ways to assist JISE will be addressed and discussed.

Keywords: Journal publishing, Information systems education

I. INTRODUCTION

To make AIS journals as widely accessible as possible, it is important that the articles can easily be read and printed by computers without multimedia capability. Authors are encouraged, however, to include multimedia material where appropriate. Such material is made accessible through hyperlinks.

II. Panel Overview

In this session, several topics will be discussed, including (but not limited to):

- Submitting papers to JISE (procedure, style format, etc.)
- The review process
- Opportunities, responsibilities, and rewards for being a reviewer
- Opportunities, responsibilities, and rewards for being a Guest Editor for a Special Issue.

ISECON attendees will be encouraged to ask questions and explore publishing opportunities with JISE. Panel members will answer questions and present helpful hints for potential authors. The journal is sponsored by EDSIG.

III. Target Audience

The target audience is any ISECON attendee that wishes to submit a paper to JISE or participate in JISE (reviewer, guest editor, etc.).

IV. Desired Outcomes

Attendees should:

- Understand the submission process of JISE
- Understand the review process for JISE
- Learn of the opportunities, responsibilities, and rewards for being a reviewer
- Learn of the opportunities, responsibilities, and rewards for being a Guest Editor for a special Issue.
