Admissions Policy

UTHSC's Physician Assistant Program evaluates applications using a holistic process. Robust applications show evidence of academic potential, healthcare system knowledge, motivation, personal maturity, self-assurance, and good interpersonal skills.

All verified applications that meet the minimum requirements are reviewed by faculty and receive a score based on our admission rubric. Applicant's scores are weighted about GPA, GRE (verbal and quantitative) score, Prerequisite GPA, Direct care hours, medical certification/licenses held (e.g., medical assistant, CRN, RN, EMT, etc.), volunteer experience, and leadership experience.

In addition, applicants who have Tennessee residency, are UT alumni, have military experience, are applicants from groups currently underrepresented in the PA profession, are non-traditional students, and who represent the first in their family to pursue higher education, and/or have the willingness to provide care to the underserved, will receive additional consideration.
